Report of the workshop

Workshop On Foreign Exchange Trading Opportunities

One day workshop on foreign exchange trading opportunities was organised in the college on 16th February 2017 with the assistance of RBI. The dignitaries present for the workshop were General Manager of Reserve Bank of India Smt S V Nadkarni, officer S. D. Joshi and other officers.

Principal Dr P P Chhajed inaugurated the seminar and gave keynote address. The purpose of organizing seminar was to acquaint the students with financial sector and it's different aspects.

In the first session Smt Nadkarni discussed foreign trade. In this topic she explained the students meaning, types of foreign trade, need and importance of a foreign trade. She also explained that, in small cities like Dhule the student should be acquainted with such important issues related to commerce. While elaborating this subject Mrs Nadkarni further explained Indian foreign exchange market, recent development therein and the road ahead. She also discussed the global financial crisis and the European debt crisis, which was quite new for the students and sufficient light was thrown on the above topics.

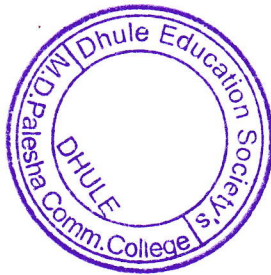

The second session was addressed by RBI Officer S D Joshi. Initially Mr Joshi simplified the basic concepts regarding FOREX trading. He explained meaning, brief history of FOREX, spot market and the forward and future markets. He further highlighted crises and challenges of FOREX trading.

He further discussed FOREX market intervention, import policies regarding non essential items like gold, recent measures for easing certain foreign exchange restrictions, opening of special dollar swap Window for Oil Companies and special concession swap Window for attracting FCNR deposits. The subject was totally new for the students. They showed keen interest in understanding the topic which may open up some opportunities for them after graduation.

The final Session was regarding Career Opportunities in RBI. During the question answer session the officers discussed with the students career opportunities with Reserve Bank of India. They explained the multidisciplinary nature of work, areas of formulations of monetary policy and participation in decision making process. The students took keen interest in this session. They asked various questions regarding Reserve Bank of India and its functioning and opportunities available after graduation.

Vice-principal Dr K B Diwate delivered the concluding speech. He expressed vote of thanks and gratefulness towards RBI and its officer for creating awareness on various topics discussed by them. Total 125 students participated enthusiastically in the workshop.
